FULL REPORT

OFFICERS
The Section’s current officers (entering the first year of their two-year terms) include: Amy E. Eckert (Metropolitan State University of Denver) as Chair, Cian O’Driscoll (University of Glasgow) as Vice-Chair, and Eric A. Heinze (University of Oklahoma) as Secretary. The section continues to recognize the service of Harry Gould (Florida International) and Amanda Beattie (Aston University) as its Compendium section co-editors. In addition, Bryant William Sculos (PhD Candidate, Florida International University) occupies our newly-created position of social media coordinator.

MEMBERSHIP
Membership in the section has edged slightly higher from 242 last year to 243 this year. Section officers have encouraged renewals via the Facebook and Twitter pages and annual newsletter, along with encouragement at panels and roundtables sponsored by the Section at the ISA and regional conferences.

AWARDS
The International Ethics Section Annual Book Award is announced every year at the Section’s business meeting at the ISA Convention. The prize is an award of $200 along with a plaque to the author(s). The 2016 award went to: Jennifer C. Rubenstein for Between Samaritans and States: The Political Ethics of Humanitarian NGOs (Oxford: Oxford University Press, 2015). The 2015 Book Award Committee Chair, Richard Beardsworth (University of Wales), has organized a book roundtable on the award-winning book for the next annual convention in Baltimore. Members of the 2016 Book Award committee selected at the business meeting in New Orleans in February 2015: Richard Beardsworth as Chair for the committee through 2017, with Andy Hom (University of Edinburgh) and Alexandria Innes (University of East Anglia) serving a one-year term on the 2016 committee. At the 2015 business meeting, the section announced a call for nominations for a new award, the Frances V. Harbour Graduate Student Paper Award. A founding member and past chair of the International Ethics section, the late Professor Frances V. Harbour published extensively on morality in foreign and security policy; just war theory; arms control and biological and chemical weapons. Cian O’Driscoll (Glasgow), Michael Butler (Clark University) and David Karp (University of Sussex) served on the award committee. The first winner of this annual award, announced at the 2016, was John Emery (University of California-Irvine). This year’s committee is headed by Eric Heinze and includes David Karp and Steven Rosow.
ACTIVITIES
The membership’s Facebook page continues to be a critical site for circulating information to members: http://www.facebook.com/pages/International-Ethics-ISA/164199640304894. With the addition of our social media coordinator, we now have a Twitter account as well.

The International Ethics section program chairs for the 2016 annual convention in Atlanta were Brent Steele and Amy Eckert. The Section was allotted 19 panels and was able to support 39 through co-sponsorship. This included a roundtable on the book that won the 2015 International Ethics Section Book Award, Joseph Carens’ The Ethics of Immigration (organized by Kim Hutchings) and a panel in honor of Distinguished Scholar Chris Brown. The Section’s reception at the 2016 annual convention, jointly held for the fourth time with Theory, was graciously sponsored by Cambridge University Press. The Section’s program co-chairs for the 2017 annual convention in New Orleans are Amy Eckert and Cian O’Driscoll. The Section was allotted 18 panels. Through co-sponsorship, we support 41 panels, including one honoring our Book Award winner and one in honor of Distinguished Scholar James Turner Johnson.

FINANCES
Balance as of November: $3,104.01 Near-Future expected expenditures: Baltimore reception $1104.60; ISA Book award and plaque $300.00; Graduate student award $100.00.